New Screen Magazine

No. 71 - One Reel

CANOEING is usually a calm and restful sport but not when you want to shoot the glorious rapids of the Adirondacks in one of these frail craft. Then it becomes one of the most thrilling of all sports, and oftentimes the most chilling.

Science is ever at work to help mankind. Some interesting experiments are being made on vegetables which suffer from various kinds of blight and more particularly on that most useful of vegetables—the potato. Healthy potatoes are inoculated with the bacteria so that the progress of the blight can be studied.

There are some pictures of wise members of the bird family—mostly the owl, and some foolish beasts, mostly the orang-outang and the chimpanzee.

There is a collection of funny quips in this issue of the magazine entitled "Micky Sez."
